“Shakespeare in Asia”

The Shakespeare Association of Korea International Conference

October 23—24, 2009 Seoul, Korea

Call for Papers

The Shakespeare Association of Korea invites papers for its 2009 international conference on “Shakespeare in Asia.” The conference aims at bringing together scholars and teachers of English language and literature to discuss academic and theatrical issues particular to Shakespearean studies or performances in Asian countries. We are interested in examining Shakespeare's works in different national and cultural contexts around Asia. Topics of discussion may include (but are not limited to): Adaptations, Postcolonialism, Feminism, Performances, Teaching Methodologies.

Proposals for 20-minute papers should include a 250-word abstract and a brief curriculum vitae with contact and affiliation information. Please send proposals to Dr. Woong-Jae Shin (Dept. of English, Kwangju University, wjshin@kw.ac.kr) or Dr. Seok-Ju Kang (Dept. of English, Mokpo University, cracow@mokpo.ac.kr) by February 28, 2009. We are prepared to pay an airfare subsidy of US$ 300.00 to each speaker.
